Market-Q Streaming Widgets

Market data for corporate websites, web portals and custom applications

Market-Q™ widgets are windows from the Market-Q product that can be individually integrated into websites or applications to display market data. These dynamic streaming components can save development time, as well as resources and bandwidth.

The widgets’ modular or “componentized” set-up makes it easy to incorporate just one, a few or the entire suite.

We provide a secure single sign-on environment and offer Vendor-of-Record services, so clients can get on with business confident that their end users’ information is safe and data use is properly accounted for with the exchanges.

Who Can Benefit from Market-Q widgets?
- Full service and discount brokerages
- Financial advisors
- Hedge funds
